Strike-Torn Town Tense

Michigan City Has Night of Violence

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP)—Tension gripped this little southern Michigan city today following a night of strike violence and demonstrators' threats at a jail holding arrested pickets.

Sixty state policemen and sheriff's deputies of neighboring counties came to the aid of Hillsdale's seven-man police force in the emergency.

A crowd of 300 persons had massed at the Hillsdale County Jail. Some demonstrators threw rocks, breaking jail windows.

Before midnight the crowd had dispersed. However, police kept an overnight watch.

The trouble began about 7 p.m. with the march of demonstrators to the jail from the strike scene at Essex Wire Corp.

The crowd was angered by the arrest of three persons, one of them a striker's wife. The demonstrators stoned the jail in protest and police began waving their nightsticks to restore order.

After about two hours, the crowd had become generally peaceful.

Mayor C. Aubrey Paul called the City Council into an emergency meeting. City Attorney Harvey W. Moes said the coun-

War Games End Expected

100,000 Engaged In Vast Operation

BLYTHE, Calif. (AP) — This could be the day of decision for 100,000 fighting men spread across 13 million acres in a make-believe, but not bloody war over the Colorado River.

Peace feelers have been put out by both mythical nations in Operation Desert Strike.

And reports are growing that directors of the operation want to avoid any conflict with civilian highway traffic over the Memorial Day weekend.

If so, today or Friday may bring an end to the year's largest military maneuver, a multi-million-dollar training exercise that has cost 8 lives directly, 24 indirectly.

Twelve of the 32 have died since the war games began May 16, but only one of them was caused by a weapon and that was an apparent suicide, officers of the maneuver said.

Latest reported casualty came at noon Wednesday, when the pilot of an Air Force F100 jet fighter was killed in a crash near Vidal Junction, Calif.

Officials said 1st Lt. Peter H. Trotogett, 24, of Vancouver, Wash., was flying a simulated strafing mission near Parker Dam when the crash occurred.

Trotogett's death was the third in an aviation accident since May 16 and the sixth since forces began gathering here in February. Trotogett leaves his parents, Peter H. Trotogett and Mrs. Evelyn T. Morrow, both of Vancouver.

It all began because Calonia — on the California side of the Colorado — and its mythical neighbor, Nezona, on the Arizona side, were feuding over rights to the river's precious water.

On the night of May 15, Calonia stopped arguing and sent troops by helicopter to occupy Parker and Davis dams, in a demilitarized zone supervised by a mythical international body, the Organization of Western States.

The following day Nezona declared war and invaded Calonia. Over the past two weeks, air and ground units of the U.S. Strike Command, formed in 1961

Vast Throngs Gather for Nehru Funeral

2 Persons Killed As Crowd Stampedes For Look at Body

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Followed by statesmen from over the world, the body of Jawaharlal Nehru made its final journey today through the streets of the capital from which he welded India's down-trodden millions into one nation.

Acting Prime Minister G. L. Nanda, with tears in his eyes, placed a floral wreath on the body as it was lifted from the porch of the prime minister's residence to a flower-bedecked gun carriage.

Had Laid In State

The body had lain in state on the porch through the night as hundreds of thousands of sorrowing Indians passed in mournful homage. So great was the desire to see India's 74-year-old leader a last time that the crowd outside stampeded shortly before the procession started, killing two persons and injuring six.

To the beat of muffled drums, an honor guard of Indian soldiers and sailors accompanied Nehru's bier as six horses slowly drew it along the six-mile route to the Hindu funeral pyre at the Rajghat, the Pyre of Kings, on the banks of the holy Jumna River.

Sorrowing Indians jammed the line of march.

Turbaned Kisan farmers, who drove their bullock carts from nearby villages, watched as a long line of shiny automobiles carried government chiefs, diplomats and soldiers from around the world in the procession.

Car 'Knocks Tar' Out Of Road Repair Trailer

A Minerva area car "knocked the tar" out of a highway repair trailer Wednesday, but no one was hurt.

Forrest R. Stonemetz, 58, of RD 2, Minerva was heading east at 9:50 a.m. on Township Rd. 808 (Mountz Rd.) when he hit the rear of the halted asphalt trailer West Township road workers were using to fix the pavement.

The operator of the pickup truck pulling the tar trailer, George Picknell, Jr., 39, also of RD 2, Minerva, was helping on the road at the time of the mishap.

The front end of Stonemetz' car and the back of the tar trailer were damaged.

Better Or Worse?

U.S.-Russia Relations Have Double-Sided Nature

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations between the Soviet Union and the United States are beginning to run up an impressive list of successes. The latest is the new treaty to increase protection for American citizens in the Soviet Union and Soviet citizens in the United States.

Still, relations between Washington and Moscow in some ways are getting worse at the same time they are getting better. The future course or relations is unpredictable, and no one in either capital has any guarantees against the sudden eruption of a new and dangerous crisis.

Agreement on the new treaty, formally known as a consular convention, was announced by President Johnson Wednesday. He emphasized that it was the first two-nation treaty between this country and the Soviet Union in the 31 years they have had diplomatic links. He expressed the hope that it would lead to a further improvement in relations.

The treaty provides for opening up consular offices in each country, in addition to the embassies in Washington and Moscow. How many offices will be opened and where they will be established are questions still to be negotiated.

The United States is reported interested in having a consulate in Leningrad, and the Soviet Union is understood to want a consulate in Chicago. Each country formerly had consulates in the other, but they were closed in 1948 as a result of cold war incidents.

The most important provision of the pact, in the U.S. view, is a commitment by each government to give official notice within three days of the arrest of a citizen of the other, and to permit officials to visit the person arrested within four days of seizure.

Soviet failure to notify the United States promptly of the arrest of American citizens has been a major source of irritation, one dramatic incident being the seizure last year of Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn.

That case was finally straightened out only after the personal intervention of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Typical of the double-sided nature of U.S.-Soviet affairs at present is the fact that, at almost the same hour that Johnson was announcing his consular pact, a spokesman at the State Department was deploring the prospective shipment of Soviet arms to Cyprus.

An arms deal between the Cyprus government, controlled by the island's Greek majority, and the Soviet Union has been rumored for about two weeks. U.S. officials obviously believe the reports are true, and they fear the possibility of new violence between the Greek population and the Turkish minority.

The most serious source of current tension between the world's two major powers, however, is the crisis in Southeast Asia. Faced with Communist offensives in both Laos and South Viet Nam, the United States has been employing all kinds of diplomatic pressures to persuade Red China and Communist North Viet Nam to stop the fighting in Laos, and to realize the dangers of an expanded war in Viet Nam.

Privately, officials said the United States had really got no

They will then alternate their school work with practical engineering at the Electric Furnace Company, or another engineering company of their choice and earn during this time the money for supporting the school periods at the University.

Body of 2nd Slain Ohio Youth Found

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Over a period of 10 days last June three Akron area youths disappeared.

The remains of two of them now have been found in isolated areas, both apparently victims of strangulation.

The latest grisly find was the remains of 12-year-old Ruth Guthrie of Tallmadge, her hands bound together, found Wednesday on a farm in Portage County.

Nothing was left but bones, said Dr. J. R. Turner, Portage County coroner, "but an educated guess would be that she was strangled before she was taken to the spot."

The tattered clothing was identified by the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis P. Guthrie.

Dr. Turner said clothing had

Hearing Continued On Bid To Close Lisbon Rail Agency

At a meeting Wednesday in Columbus on the application of the Erie-Lackawanna Railroad to vacate the Lisbon agency, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio continued the hearing indefinitely to give the parties concerned time to negotiate, according to Atty. Lynn Riddle of Lisbon, legal adviser for several Lisbon area shippers and the Lisbon Chamber of Commerce.

Atty. Riddle said the hearing on the railroad's proposal to close its Canfield operations will be held June 10 at 10 a.m. in Lisbon, followed by a hearing on the bid to shut down the Leetonia agency.

Seven Lisbon area shippers have filed formal objections to the railroad's proposal.

They are Industrial Mining and Engineering Co., Steel Fabricating Co., Lisbon Lumber Co., D. W. Dicky and Sons, Wetzel Coal Sales, Buckeye Coal Mining Co. and Columbiana County Farm Bureau Cooperative.

Atty. Riddle said this morning that if a hearing must be held on the closing of the Lisbon facilities, it also would be held in Lisbon.

Lew Way, president of the company, said damage was confined to the plastic sheets and no one was injured. Work is continuing without interruption.

Bundy, British Leaders Meet On Asian Crisis

Russians Assail Observation Flights By U.S. Planes

LONDON (AP)—Asst. Secretary of State William P. Bundy said today there is a real danger of a Communist takeover in Southeast Asia.

As Bundy flew in from Washington for London talks on the Asian crisis, the British government rejected a Soviet charge that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Laos violated Lao neutrality. The Soviet note to Britain warned that the U.S. flights could aggravate the situation throughout Southeast Asia.

Bundy, assistant secretary for Far Eastern affairs, told newsmen the threat of a Communist takeover "is a matter we all have been watching with great concern."

Asked how stability and neutrality for Laos could be achieved without force, he replied, "That is a very difficult question to answer and it is one of the things we must talk about."

Bundy was meeting with Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler for the first of several days of talks on Laos, Cambodia and Viet Nam.

The British Foreign Office, in a sharp rebuke of the Russians, dismissed the Soviet note on the U.S. flights as "purely propaganda" and said it "totally misrepresents the true position in Laos."

The Soviet note said the United States was "embarking on this dangerous road of an open violation of the Geneva agreements" and "assumes grave responsibility for all consequences following from this."

Soviets Accuse U. S. The Russians also accused the United States of trying to involve the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization in "its dangerous plans for Laos."

The Soviet Union urged Britain to endorse the note for distribution to the United States and other participants in the 14-nation Geneva conference of 1962 which guaranteed Lao neutrality. Russia and Britain are cochairmen.

"They can never have expected us to agree" to distribute the note, the Foreign Office said.

British officials consider the flights justified because the Communist Pathet Lao forces refused to allow inspection of their military strongpoints by the International Control Commission established by the Geneva agreement.

Laotian Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma asked the United States to undertake the flights.

In a dispatch from Washington, the Soviet news agency Tass accused the United States of "harboring plans for new military actions in Southeast Asia, which hold nothing in store but scandalous failures."

Opening of Guilford Lake Beach Set

The public swimming beach at Guilford Lake State Park will open Saturday at 10 a.m., Walter Burbick, park manager said today.

Swimming hours will be from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily through Labor Day.

William Schroyer of Guilford Lake, a freshman at Bowling Green State University, Paul Morgan of Lisbon and Larry Reader of Salem will be lifeguards. Schroyer was a guard last year, but Morgan and Reader, both seniors in their respective high schools, are staff members for the first time.

Burbick said over 160,000 persons used the beach facilities last year, according to a traffic counter at the beach main entrance. He said this figure was conservative as it does not include swimmers who walk to the beach or the cars using the overflow lot east of the beach.

Guilford State Park received over 600,000 visitors last year: 19,620 campers, 44,716 fishermen and 376,800 picnickers.

The Land Between The Lakes

New Mid-America Playground

Within a one-day drive for 70 million Americans, a great new tract for enthusiasts of the outdoor life is taking shape in the southwestern corner of Kentucky and northern Tennessee. It is known as the Land Between the Lakes National Recreational Area.

A five-year development program already has been started by the Tennessee Valley Authority. Limited accommodations are available this year.

The area embraces 170,000 acres of virtually virgin territory—a peninsula 35 miles long and eight miles wide. It lies between 185-mile-long Kentucky Lake and the now-almost-completed 118-mile-long Barkley Lake (see newspaper, left). At the northern end of the tract a canal will connect both lakes for the benefit of far-ranging boatmen and fishermen.

Scattered along the more than 300 miles of shoreline of both lakes will be areas for water sports, fishing, hunting, family, group and primitive camping sites; tent and trailer parks and picnic groves. Hotels and restaurants are barred from the tract but will fringe the area.

For nature lovers the strip abounds in all forms of wildlife and migratory waterfowl in a large acreage game refuge.

Land Between the Lakes is just a long day's drive (500 miles) for 70 million people and a half-day's motor trip (200 miles) for 10 million. (Outer circle on newspaper, right, shows 500-mile radius; inner circle is 200-mile radius from the new outdoors park.)

Eighty per cent of the epileptics in this country can attend school, hold jobs, marry and raise children—IF they are accepted as normal human beings and not humiliated or discriminated against by an ignorant and ill-informed society.

I'm an epileptic and here is my history: I won top honors in high school, spent two years in the Canadian Air Force during the war, married, had children and now hold a government office.

I have never allowed epilepsy to prevent me from doing anything I wanted to do. No one except my physician and my intimate family knows I'm an epileptic. I adhere to doctor's orders, get plenty of rest and the proper nourishment.

I refuse to feel sorry for myself. I'm actually a great deal better off than most people I know. Please print my letter and sign me—ALSO NOT ASHAMED.

Dear Also: Here is your letter, and now a word from me:
It's too bad you have kept your epilepsy such a deep, dark secret.

You could help to enlighten people and to make them less fearful of epilepsy if they knew an epileptic could function as well as you do.

Family Letter

Dear Ann: Our son is in the service. He writes two long, newsy letters every month. My husband and I eagerly look forward to the mail.

Tim addresses his letters to both his father and me, although his father seldom writes to him. (I write for both of us.)

When a letter from Tim arrives my husband hands me the rest of the mail, takes the letter from Tim and opens it. When I ask if we can read Tim's letter together, or if he will please read Tim's letter to me, he says, "No, I'd rather read it alone."

Then he sits down and reads Tim's letter and I have to wait until he finishes and hands it to me.

I try not to show it, Ann, but I just boil inside when he does this. Am I wrong to feel that my husband is inconsiderate? Please tell me how to deal with the problem. — HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE.

Dear High: Of course he's inconsiderate, but you knew that. Every marriage needs at least one mature person, so why don't you be the one? Try this:

The next time the mailman brings a letter from Tim, walk straight to the kitchen and start to bake a batch of cookies. Ask your husband to please bring Tim's letter to you when he has finished with it.

Turn on the kitchen radio, hum, sing, beat away at the cookie batter — keep busy until the letter comes in. You'll enjoy it more when your blood pressure is normal.

Pickled Herring

Dear Ann: Two weeks ago a friend arranged a blind date for me. The man (whom I will call Jud) was attractive, a fine conversationalist and has had marital troubles similar to mine. I enjoyed his company but I must confess he consumed a lot of alcohol than any person I've ever gone out with.

He didn't appear to be drunk, but he downed at least a dozen drinks between 8:30 p. m. and midnight.

When it came time to go home I was actually afraid to get into the car with him. (I was in a bad accident three years ago and am lucky to be alive.) He sensed my concern and said, "Relax. I've never had an accident in my life."

Jud called me last Saturday but I was busy. If he calls again should I accept? I've checked with people who know him well and they all say he drinks like a fish.—ALICE.

Dear Alice: If he drinks like a fish, swim with him—don't drive with him.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Second graders visited Guilford Lake, Ft. Tuscarawa and a pretzel factory at Leetonia. Third graders visited a basket factory at Damascus. Mill Creek Park Museum and Nature Trail.

Fourth graders visited a greenhouse in Alliance and the McKinley Monument and Museum in Canton. Fifth and sixth graders visited the Youngstown Water Works and Boardman Park.

MISS JACQUELYN Fryfogle was honored with a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Philip Herold. The 16 guests present were from Salem, Alliance and Sebring. Game prizes went to Mrs. Kenneth Mountz, Mrs. Willis Yoder and Mrs. Harold Fryfogle.

Special guests were Mrs. Violet Augstein and Mrs. William Fryfogle, mothers of the couple. Mrs. Harry Haberland, grandmother of the bride who had planned the event, was unable to act as hostess due to an illness.

Pastel shades to carry out the bride's wedding colors were used on the gift table which was covered with a parasol and centered with a sprinkling can of flowers.

An open church wedding at the East Goshen Friends Church will be held at 7 p.m., June 6 when Miss Fryfogle becomes the bride of Charles Augstein.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Medical View On Cigarettes

In the midst of all the furor about the harmful effects of smoking, it is of interest to see how the medical profession as a whole feels about this subject. "Modern Medicine" conducted a survey of over 60,000 physicians.

Of these 79.4 per cent had smoked at one time or another, but nearly had given it up, so that less than half still smoke. When asked whether they believe cigarette smoking is a health hazard, however, 94.8 per cent answered yes.

Those who advised all of their patients to quit smoking before it was too late comprised 53.6 per cent. Most of the others insisted that their patients stop smoking when the patients showed signs of disease in the heart, blood vessels or lungs or had peptic ulcers.

REPORTS SUCH AS that of Dr. E. J. Salber at Harvard, which shows that teen-agers who smoke generally have a lower intelligence quotient than non-smokers, have received comparatively little publicity. The same report showed that boys who smoke have more trouble with their parents, the school authorities and the law than the nonsmokers.

One block is the fact that tobacco, being officially defined as neither a food or a drug, does not come within the authority of the Food and Drug Administration. If it did, it would never have gotten on the open market.

MANY PLANS have been advanced to help smokers to kick the habit. One method consists of substituting another activity such as chewing gum.

This is most effective when cigarettes are used principally to relieve boredom. Another method, especially applicable to those who might be described as jittery smokers, is a short course of tranquilizing drugs as a temporary crutch.

Another drug that has long been used to help break the habit, lobeline, has been put out in lozenge form (Nikoban).

Although some observers report good results with this drug, others say that a strong motivation to quit smoking without the use of lobeline will achieve better results than a weak motivation plus lobeline.

A team composed of a doctor (J. W. McFarland) and a minister (E. J. Folkenberg) have written a book entitled "How to Stop Smoking in Five Days," claiming success in 75 per cent of those who use their method.

Nehru Preserved India

The eventuality the West has dreaded most when India's Prime Minister Nehru died now moves closer.

In the absence of his strong hand, will anyone have enough authority to keep upward of half a billion impoverished and largely illiterate people from moving first into chaos then into absolutist Communist control?

Will India follow mainland China into Marxism? Will its moderates let themselves be disorganized by splinter politics until Communists are able to gain control of the government?

This was Nehru's besetting problem as prime minister. This was India's perennial problem after it was given independence from Britain. It was the plaguing worry of all statesmen outside the Communist sphere — this concern over lack of stability in India.

Nehru's successor will see the problem resolved. Time has run out on the uneasy truce that Mahata Gandhi's successor was able to keep. No one else has his prestige. No one else can apeak with his authority. India now must move either forward or backward. It cannot stand still.

The West had trouble understanding Nehru. But there was an uneasy suspicion that he never had trouble understanding the West. He and the men who worked with him in the mysticisms of Indian politics had been educated in the West. No Westerners have been educated in India.

In the months ahead, the enormity of India's problems may be clearer than it was during the political ascendancy of this scholar-patrician-politician. He may have been the indispensable, irreplaceable essence of whatever unity India achieved after it gained independence on Aug. 15, 1947.

Better Listen to Eisenhower

If this country gets caught short without adequate executive authority, Dwight D. Eisenhower will be entitled to an "I told you so." He has done everything in his power to point out the danger of neglecting a problem that desperately needs to be solved.

He now has repeated, in a conference sponsored by the American Bar Association, what he has been saying since he himself, was in the White House. The United States should spell out the authority of a vice president to take over the presidency if the holder of the office is incapacitated. It should spell out the authority of a president to appoint a vice president when that office becomes vacant.

And if these things were done, there should be a return to the former order of succession to the presidency, set aside when the Democratic party wanted to put the late Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas first in line. Instead of a secretary of state its leaders did not trust during the Truman administration.

But will the stitch be taken in time? Probably not. The 1964 presidential election comes closer day by day—and each day will diminish the terrible urgency that was felt after John F. Kennedy's assassination when Americans realized that Lyndon B. Johnson's accession to the presidency had put Speaker of the House McCormack next in the line of succession—a party stalwart whose capabilities in the executive office would leave everything to be desired.

Confidence

Today is the second anniversary of Black Monday, worst day on the New York Stock Exchange since Black Tuesday of Oct. 29, 1929.

The second anniversary finds Wall Street in a mood of general confidence. The Dow-Jones average of industrial stocks topped the closing mark of 800 for the first time on Feb. 26. Since then, until the first week in May, the general market trend had been upward.

On Monday, May 28, 1962, the two million stockholders in American Telephone & Telegraph lost — on paper — $3 billion. A total of $20.8 billion was squeezed out of shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange. It was Wall Street's worst day since the 1929 crash.

The slide might have been anticipated.

Stock prices had been slipping since January. Economists were predicting a recession. The steel price imbroglio had raised fear of the Kennedy administration in the business community. The price-earnings ratio for all Big Board issues was unusually high—around 22 to 1.

Since Black Monday and the June 26 low of 1962, the market has been fairly consistently bullish. President Kennedy's assassination detonated a sharp selloff, but after the long weekend of worry and grief, institutions and Wall Street professionals expressed their confidence in Lyndon Johnson bycoming strongly into the market when the exchanges reopened on Nov. 26. The Dow-Jones climbed a record-breaking 32.03 points on that day of reassurance.

Outside the Spirit of the Law

If the U.S. Supreme Court has arrived belatedly at the conclusion that the time for "all deliberate speed" in desegregating public schools has been used up, there will be more chaos and confusion next fall than there has been at any time since the 1954 desegregation decision was handed down.

The court indicates this may be its view in an order to Prince Edward County, Va., to reopen its public schools on a desegregated basis next September. In this county, the reaction to the 1954 decision, based in part on a Prince Edward case, was simply to close the public schools altogether.

Elsewhere, the customary reaction in dual school system communities was to move slowly into some slight degree of token integration — a handful of Negro students enrolled in otherwise all-white schools.

This made it possible for localities and even whole states to argue that they were complying with the letter of the 1954 ruling, though flouting its spirit.

In the decade since 1954, it has been made plain by the stubborn resistance of diehard segregationists that they have no intention of observing the spirit of the law in the school cases. With full credit to school systems that have complied with the Supreme Court ruling, many systems in backward sections have refused to budge.

In Prince Edward County, there not only was refusal to desegregate but a decision to close the schools. Never was the Supreme Court flouted more brazenly. Its patience has been remarkable — more remarkable than was justified.

Part of the Challenges

One byproduct of the anti-poverty program already is evident, though the machinery of the program is not in existence. The country's general knowledge about poverty is being enriched.

A report circulated in the U.S. Department of Labor shows how this is going to come about. It describes a project by Virginia State College to retrain 100 unskilled, unemployed Negro men—typical cases of hard-core unemployment.

The project is being regarded as successful, insofar as it was carried through for an entire year, without the aid of federal interest or the intensive publicity that accompanied the Johnson administration's program.

But the complications growing out of it were endless and monumental, confirming the conception that poverty is commonly an affliction of persons least equipped for coping with life's problems.

People who didn't learn to read and write when their minds were malleable are that much more difficult to teach when their minds are less receptive.

People with no skill to sell in the job market proved to be people with no skill to rely on in the classroom. People who never had pulled themselves to a higher level of learning and living were reluctant to be pulled by others.

When finally they were "retrained"—taught after a fashion to do what they hadn't learned to do the first time—employers looked at them critically, especially if they had been in trouble with the law. Furthermore, the practice of judging applicants by their records proved a handicap. The trainees had no records to show.

Poverty is a challenge. Part of the challenge is going to be to learn enough about it to abandon the notion that spending money can get rid of human inadequacy.

"Gee, Thanks"

Shocking Court Ruling

By DAVID LAWRENCE

The U.S. Supreme Court just handed down a decision which transcends in importance its ruling of May 1954 ordering public schools to be desegregated. This time the court goes further.

David Lawrence

It undertakes to tell the legislative body of a Virginia county how it shall appropriate the taxpayers' money. It tells the board of supervisors, which is the legislative body of the county under the constitution of the state of Virginia, that a federal court order can be issued commanding the county board to levy certain taxes and spend certain funds for purposes specified by the court.

No such sweeping decision has ever come from the Supreme Court in the history of the United States. The theory of the federal Constitution has always been that the executive, legislative and judicial powers are separate and that the right of the people to govern themselves and to elect a legislative body to decide how tax money shall be spent cannot be interfered with or impaired by any order of a court.

THE SUPREME COURT, in this instance, admitted that a state "has wide discretion in deciding whether laws shall operate statewide, or shall operate only in certain counties, the legislature 'having in mind the needs and desires of each.'"

But the opinion went on to say that the Supreme Court of the United States may decide for itself what objectives the board of supervisors may have had in mind and can veto such legislation if it doesn't conform to the court's conception of how the county's money shall be spent.

The Supreme Court was explicit in its command. It ruled that the federal court may, if necessary, "require the supervisors to exercise the power that is theirs to levy taxes to raise funds adequate to reopen, operate, and maintain without racial discrimination the public school system in Prince Edward County like that operated in other counties in Virginia."

So, while conceding that a state may give counties local autonomy, the Supreme Court now reserves for itself the right to censor such actions and issue court decrees compelling legislatures to vote certain taxes. This has heretofore always been believed to be discretionary with the legislative body.

IF THE PRINCIPLE established by the high court is accepted, it could mean that the federal judiciary may undertake to tell Congress how it shall spend tax money, and particularly to order the national legislature, as well as state legislatures, to spend money in ways which the court itself would decide.

Again and again, spokesmen for various states have argued that other states got more appropriations or more assistance from the federal government and that this constituted a form of discrimination.

The U.S. Supreme Court now can rule not only on such questions but can claim that the citizens are not being given "the equal protection of the laws" when one state or one part of a state is favored over another by federal or state appropriations.

Even more sensational is the Supreme Court's ruling that a county, perhaps even a state, must operate its educational system in accordance with the dictates of the judiciary.

The legislature of the state of Virginia, for instance, passed laws in 1959 and 1960, providing grants of tuition to parents of "every child, regardless of race," so as to finance the attendance of such a child at any "nonsectarian private school or a public school outside his locality."

All localities were also authorized to provide their own grants on a similar nondiscriminatory basis.

The people of Prince Edward County in Virginia, where the dispute arose over the closing of the public schools, offered to set up private schools for colored children as well as private schools for white children. The Negro organizations declined the offer, preferring to depend upon a court battle by which they sought a compulsory opening of the public schools.

Thus, a county in the state of Virginia is prevented by the highest court in the land from treating children of all races equally in permitting them to go to private schools of their own choosing, or to attend public schools in other counties or localities.

THE DAY cannot be far distant when private schools throughout the country may be subjected to the same judicial supervision, on the ground that, while they might not have state financial support, these schools nevertheless operate under a state license or must obtain educational accreditation from state authorities.

Private schools could some day be classified — in the words of the latest Supreme Court decision — as "beneficiaries of county and state support."

Most surprising of all, however, is the concept expressed by the Supreme Court that it may at will substitute its own decrees for the judgment usually rendered by a state or county legislative body elected by the people.

An oligarchy of nine men, appointed for life, could virtually control the income and outgo of the budgets and, in effect, force the spending of public funds for purposes not approved by the people's representatives.

U.S. Labor Blasts Khrushchev

By VICTOR RIESEL

Some one extremely high in the U.S. government has issued orders to the U.S. Information Agency and to our embassies across the world not to broadcast news or propaganda, distribute literature, or issue statements which would irritate the Soviet Union. This policy has angered a group of men who don't usually anger quietly. The indignant men are leaders of American labor who recently spent considerable time formulating a declaration of principles denouncing Chairman Nikita S. Khrushchev and sharply taking issue with the State Dept. policy of aiding the USSR during its present economic and political chaos.

A statement critical of the Soviets was adopted by the AFL-CIO Executive Council last week in Washington. Although the council speaks for over 13 million union members, not a word of this has been flashed around the world.

IT WOULD HAVE great international impact, since it is a labor statement issued by American union officials whose counterparts in scores of lands are prime ministers, cabinet members or leaders of powerful opposition parties.

Such criticism is known to enrage Chairman Khrushchev and his presidium because it cannot be attributed to right-wing or conservative forces in the United States, which are traditionally anti-Soviet.

In the statement which is now official AFL-CIO policy, the labor chiefs warn that the U.S. must neither let its guard down nor permit the Sino-Soviet division to do "our work."

"In spite of the present relaxation of tensions," Khrushchev stubbornly persists in all the old Soviet positions," the document states, "which are at the root of the cold war.

"Through his current less abusive tactics, he seeks to spread illusions, confusion and division amongst the Western democracies, to lull them into a false sense of security and to facilitate his securing from the U.S. and free Europe the economic assistance the USSR so urgently needs."

AFTER DENOUNCING as a "monstrous myth" the notion that world peace can be won by helping Communist dictatorships, the statement released by AFL-CIO President George Meany asserts:

"... At the very moment when it seeks American assistance, the Soviet government continues to spend more than $1 million a day to keep that 'distasteful nuisance,' Castro, in power. Moscow is training and financing his Communist agents for subverting Latin America, spreading hatred of the U.S. and sabotaging the Alliance for Progress Program..."

Recent agreements such as the Soviet-U.S. pact on cutting down production of fissionable materials, the labor leaders said, "do not prove that the Soviet government has dropped all plans for aggression." Therefore, they urge that the U.S. should get some acts of good faith from the Kremlin.

"DIFFICULTIES now afflicting the Communist economies and the conflicts plaguing the international Communist movement provide a propitious moment for our country and its allies to initiate diplomatic, economic and political moves to eliminate the causes of world tension and to promote just and lasting peace," the labor resolution continues.

"Their statement should insist that the Soviet and other Communist regimes stop their efforts to subvert democratic institutions and governments. Let Moscow drop its opposition to self-determination for the German people and the peoples of the Soviet satellites and annexed lands.

"Let the Kremlin give the signal for tearing down the wall which shamefully divides the city of Berlin, stop supporting the Viet Cong guerrillas and bomb-throwers in Viet Nam and the Pathet Lao military attacks against the Laotian government, cease encouraging terror and bloodshed in Cyprus and fanning the flames of hatred and war in the Middle East."

Though the U.S. government did not distribute this statement, as it has with similar resolutions in the past, the AFL-CIO has its own facilities for making its viewpoint known to many governments.

THE LABOR federation's International Affairs Department, headed by Jay Lovestone — who is as much a bone in Khrushchev's throat as he was in Stalin's — makes it a practice to meet regularly with the labor attaches of some 20 embassies here. Last Friday, the foreign affairs section met from 9:30 a.m. to well past 2:30 p.m. at the Statler-Hilton in Washington and briefed diplomatic officials of other nations on U.S. labor's attitude towards Khrushchev's possum playing. Thus the reports went back to the heads of many foreign governments.

The labor leaders will now insist that the U.S. government let hundreds of millions across the world on all sides of the Iron and Bamboo curtains know what many Americans really think.

Ham and Eggs and Business

By PAUL R. MILLER
Despite the trend toward a shorter work day, the businessman's day seems to be getting longer.

At least this is true for the growing army of business executives who start their day with a breakfast meeting. This latest trend of the corporate world has not only become well-established among many American businessmen, but has also spread to Europe's centers of commerce.

Why this sudden yen for business over the breakfast table? Do bacon and eggs provide the proper background for big business deals?

Apparently they do, because most of New York City's leading hotels report a brisk breakfast trade in their dining rooms. Virtually all of this volume comes from executives who congregate in small groups to swap advice (or consent) over their orange juice.

Several of the hotels, mainly those in midtown Manhattan, credit most of their relatively new breakfast trade to the jet age.

BUSINESSMEN who used to come to New York for two or three days now jet here for one day, explains Fred Matt, food and beverage manager of the Waldorf-Astoria.

"But they usually make a point of having breakfast appointments with other executives," says Mr. Matt. He notes the trend has accelerated so much in the last two to three years that the Waldorf has built a special kitchen to supply faster service for its Peacock Alley.

Other hotels to report a breakfast boom include the Shartown-East, whose cafe serves as many as 100 patrons simultaneously.

The American businessman's breakfast habit has also spread overseas, reports Cecil Rhodes, sales director of the Commodore. A recent visitor to Europe, he has noticed the trend taking hold in London and other European business centers.

The Commodore finds that businessmen make up a substantial part of their breakfast trade in their three dining rooms. The busiest time, as in most hotels, is from 7:45 to 9:15.

But the trend toward breakfast and business can be spotty.

The Sheraton-Carlton in Washington reports that the executives' breakfast is not popular there. The reason advanced by a Sheraton spokesman is that once a visitor hits Washington, he prefers to adopt a more leisurely pace. Most businessmen breakfast in their rooms, or alone downstairs, but not in groups.

THE TREND in Chicago appears to be more businesslike than in the nation's capital. Business executives, according to a longtime captain of the Sheraton-Blackstone's Indian Head Room, not only fill the dining room for breakfast, but sometimes line up before the doors open at 7 a.m.

Large groups from national companies often hold breakfast meetings for their executives to demonstrate new products or explain new campaigns.

Another benefit of breakfast appointments—whether in New York, Chicago or London—is that a businessman often finds an early-morning meeting impresses a client, customer (or boss) more than a two-martini lunch.

One Manhattan public relations man confides that breakfast with prospective clients impresses them how hard he works. He also claims that his prospect will have a better memory of details of a conference at this early hour where orange juice replaces more stimulating but more enervating libations.

So They Say

It is our voice which should be clear and clean, not muted by the hypocrisy of unreal pretensions.

—Secretary of State Dean Rusk in urging passage of the civil rights bill now before the Senate.

British Labor Asks Changes In NATO

LONDON (AP)—The man who may be Britain's next foreign minister says the British Labor party, if it wins the national election in the fall, will work for a five-nation directorate to formulate nuclear and political strategy for the North Atlantic Alliance.

Patrick Gordon Walker, Labor's spokesman on foreign affairs, suggested that West Germany and Italy should join the United States, Britain and France in drawing up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's plans for action "up to the moment when—and if—the nuclear trigger has to be pressed."

At that point, Gordon Walker added, the Americans would be on their own because Labor wants the United States to become the sole custodian of the West's nuclear striking power.

Gordon Walker outlined his party's planning in an interview shortly before flying today to discuss key world problems with Communist leaders in Warsaw, Moscow and Bucharest. Harold Wilson, Labor Party leader, will join him Saturday in Moscow.

Gordon Walker skirted the problem French President Charles de Gaulle's lone-wolf policies create for the Labor NATO plan.

"If the French decide not to join in the group, a place should be kept for them," he said.

NATO's shape and strategy was a major topic when foreign ministers of the 15-nation alliance met in the Hague two weeks ago. It has been a subject of confidential discussion between Wilson and his colleagues and the Johnson administration in Washington.

Hints From

Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

DEAR HELOISE: That wonderful nylon net again.

For men and women who wear black (or any color that catches lint), try wrapping a piece of nylon net around your hand and rubbing the garment.

Off comes the lint! This works on sweaters, too.

MRS. D.

DEAR HELOISE: When I have a recipe that calls for small meat balls, I make my meat ball mixture as usual.

Then I line my ice cube tray (or trays) with waxed paper. I pack the mixture into the tray, put the cube divider on top, and press down right to the bottom, and there they are!

all the same size and need only a pat or two to make them round. Quick and easy.

MARY BORTHISTLE.

DEAR HELOISE: I bought a square piece of peg board from my local contractor supply store and fitted it into the end of my clothes closet. I have a sliding door type.

These could also be fitted on the inside of any regular closet door.

I filled the holes of the peg board with various sized books and presto... have a marvelous storage for costume jewelry, necklaces, bracelets, etc.

No more tangles in a drawer and can choose one in a jiffy.

ONE OF YOUR FANS.

DEAR HELOISE: When kissing away the hurt from a pinched finger, or what have you, on my 2-year-old, I wait five or ten seconds and pretend to find the hurt, so that when do kiss it, the pain has actually gone.

MARY G.

DEAR HELOISE: When you write your grocery list UNDERLINE the item itself.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Litty of E. Third St. are home from South Bend, Ind., where they visited Dr. and Mrs. Cloyd Snyder. Mrs. Snyder, the former Chalcy Litty of Salem, is in ill health. She was a member of the first class to graduate from Salem City Hospital Nurses Training School.

(For instance, three cans of PEACHES, underline PEACHES, etc.) This saves time and confusion when doing that shopping.

ERMAL COLLINS.

DEAR HELOISE: I preheat my clothes dryer before putting in my starched pieces. I find that the cold, wet clothing does not strike against the warm dryer as much as they do a cold dryer, thus eliminating the loss of some of the starch.

P.R.

DEAR HELOISE: When I need pieces of bacon to cook with my food, I do not take out a whole strip of bacon and dice it. Instead, I cut the fat end off as many slices as I need, and still have the slices of bacon to cook for breakfast.

Besides, the resulting short-er strips fit into the frying pan better.

EULALIE.

DEAR HELOISE: Your famous nylon net again!

Have you ever tried making a wind scarf? Just cut the net as large as you want, fold it back and forth to make pleats, sew a ribbon tie on each end, steam press, and it's ready to wear.

They make lovely gifts, too.

E.H.

DEAR HELOISE: Because my wife is not able to walk up and down the stairs, I do the laundry.

Our washing machine is a front loading washer so I made sacks of nylon mesh about 24x30 inches, put one sheet in each bag and tied the loose ends.

I learned to put the sheets in a case with a bath towel and then run them through the regular cycle, and, believe me, there is no wadding or twisting and each sheet turns out cleaner and less wrinkled than I ever saw before!

Your nylon mesh is wonderful. Thanks to you for your daily visit in our home via your column.

BUD WHITMER.

And thank you, Mr. Whitmer. Who ever would have thought of that one but you?

HELOISE.

Heloise welcomes all mail especially house holds hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Ohio Senate Minority Leader Seeks AFL-CIO Presidency

CLEVELAND (AP)—Frank W. King of Toledo, minority leader of the Ohio Senate, opposed David Kane of Dayton in an election today for president of the Ohio AFL-CIO.

Delegates at the organization's fourth constitutional convention also were to elect 24 vice presidents from 39 nominees.

King, nominated Wednesday, told the 2,000 delegates he would serve full-time in the $16,000-a-year post if elected.

His Senate term runs through 1965. It is believed he planned to wait until January to resign from the Senate, thus protecting the seat for the Democrats who would name a successor for the unexpired term.

King is a member of the bricklayers union and the teachers union.

The convention elected Robert D. Bolland as secretary-treasurer Wednesday. He was appointed to the post last August when Elmer F. Cope died.

The Rhodes administration came under fire by convention speakers Wednesday.

Lutherans Plan New Christian Education System

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 340 congregations of the Ohio Synod of the Lutheran Church in America (LCA) will be introduced Sept. 14 to a new idea in Christian education.

The new system, already in use in some 6,200 congregations of the LCA, was outlined in a report Tuesday at the Ohio Synod's annual convention here.

The Rev. Jerry H. Miller of Columbus said, "Our teachers have shown more enthusiasm than they have ever demonstrated for an educational venture in the church." The Rev. Mr. Miller, director of Christian education for the synod, and the Rev. Wray Smith of Mansfield have been associated with the project since its inception in 1955.

The Rev. Mr. Miller described the new curriculum as one which makes the educational experience a cooperative thing between teacher and pupils. "The curriculum was planned so that the every-day experiences of minors are utilized in the class experience," he said. "From it the pupil gets the feeling that it is 'just like my experience.'"

Laos Asks Russians Supply Ammunition for Soviet Arms

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma has asked the Soviet Union to provide his embattled neutralist forces with ammunition for their Russian arms.

Nehru

hind the gun carriage. Trees along the route were filled with spectators. Many tumbled to the ground when overloaded branches gave way. Scores of women and children fainted under the scorching sun. Some were trampled.

"Nehru! Nehru!" thousands screamed, drowning out the funeral drums.

Although Nehru was an agnostic, the ritual of Hinduism—the majority religion of India—was to be followed strictly.

Nehru's grandson, Sanjaya Gandhi, 17, was to light the pyre near the spot where Mohandas K. Gandhi, Nehru's leader in years of campaigning for independence from Britain, was cremated after a Hindu fanatic assassinated him in January 1948.

Premiers and foreign ministers, diplomats and military chiefs headed for New Delhi within hours after they received the word that Nehru had died Wednesday of a heart attack.

Among First To Arrive British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Admiral of the Fleet Earl Mountbatten, representing Queen Elizabeth II, were among the first to arrive at New Delhi.

Other early arrivals were Soviet First Deputy Premier Alexei Kosygin and Mrs. Srimavo Bandaranaike, prime minister of Ceylon.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, representing President Johnson, was scheduled to arrive several hours after the start of the funeral procession.

As expressions of regret poured in from around the world, Nehru's body lay in state on the front porch of the prime minister's residence.

Weeping mourners flocked to the residence, and by dawn police estimated that 400,000 had passed the bier.

As they passed the body, most mourners folded their hands at the chest in prayerful gesture. The wealthy threw elaborate floral wreaths at Nehru's feet, the poor tossed petals.

The body lay on a polished teakwood table guarded by tall, bearded Sikh soldiers and sailors.

Crowd Holds Up Train At Nagpur, in central India, a crowd of 10,000 held up an express train bound for New Delhi until officials put extra cars on. Those left behind pelted the train with stones, injuring passengers, an engineer and his assistants.

Amid the messages of condolence came one from Communist China, which defeated India in a brief undeclared border war in 1962. Premier Chou En-lai's message cited the bonds of friendship between the people of India and China, despite differences between the nations.

Amid the speculation about Nehru's ultimate successor, most observers believed acting Prime Minister Nanda would be replaced soon after official mourning for Nehru ends on June 8.

Nanda, 63, the Home Minister, was sworn in as Nehru's interim successor Wednesday because he was the senior member of the Cabinet. The rest of the Cabinet agreed to stay in office as a caretaker government.

Nehru, who had served as one of India's leaders for four decades and its only prime minister since independence in 1947, made no provision for a successor to govern India's 470 million people.

The matter will be settled only when the ruling Congress party picks a man to succeed Nehru. The man it chooses will be asked by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan to form a government.

The favorite in most political speculation is the minister without portfolio, Lal Bahadur Shastri, Nehru's closest political confidant who had served as deputy prime minister in effect since Nehru suffered a stroke last January.

Newton Falls Boy Dies In Car Crash WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Delbert Lee Bailey, 21, of Newton Falls, was killed today in an automobile accident about a mile west of Newton Falls.

Trumbull County sheriff's deputies said Bailey's car went out of control, struck an oncoming auto and then went into a ditch. Bailey was thrown from the car and pinned between the vehicle and an embankment. He was pronounced dead at Trumbull Memorial Hospital here.

Souvanna made the request in a letter to Soviet Ambassador Sergei Afanassiev. "Ammunition for arms supplied by the Soviet government, notably for 85mm guns, is becoming very short because of several encounters which have taken place recently between neutralist forces and (Communist) Pathet Lao forces," Souvanna said.

Souvanna added his government "would like very much to receive sufficient quantities of ammunition to be able to face situation."

Souvanna also asked the Soviet government to repair Russian gift transport planes which are now inoperative. The premier asked the Russians to repair the planes about a year ago but got no answer.

Russian arms and ammunition were provided to the neutralists in 1961 when they were allies of the Pathet Lao and were fighting together against the right-wing Laotian army.

The Soviet Union is currently withholding aid from all Laotian factions including the Pathet Lao who are under the influence of the Communist North Vietnamese and Chinese.

However, Moscow has supported the Pathet Lao viewpoint in the propaganda side of the Laotian crisis. Diplomatic sources say the Soviets don't want to give the Communist Chinese the opportunity to accuse Moscow of abandoning a "revolutionary movement."

Souvanna said previously he would ask military and economic aid from all countries to defend his country from Pathet Lao and North Vietnamese aggression.

So far, it seems only the United States has responded favorably to his request.

Relations

help from the Soviets in its efforts to bring the crisis under control. On the contrary, they noted a sharpening turn in Soviet propaganda, coupled with warnings against a greater U.S. intervention in the area.

Other sources of tension include continuing Soviet support for Cuba as a Communist beachhead in the Western Hemisphere. In fact, given the possibility of some Cuban action against U.S. reconnaissance planes, many authorities here still see the situation in the Caribbean as a potential powderkeg.

The parallel trend of improved relations dates from the Cuban missile crisis in the fall of 1962. As the great powers backed away from the confrontation that had carried the world seemingly to the edge of nuclear war, there were many statements from both Soviet and American leaders that steps must be taken urgently to strengthen the prospects for peace.

The first of the agreements that resulted was an agreement to open up a "hot line" between Washington and Moscow, so that in any future crisis the men with the power of decision could communicate with speed and secrecy.

The next major development was the successful negotiation in signing of a treaty imposing a limited ban on the testing of nuclear weapons.

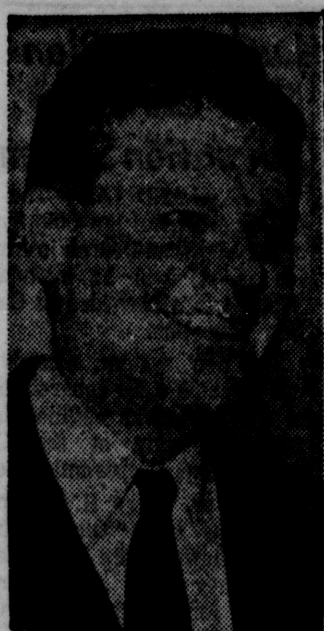

One of the more concrete achievements of the series of negotiations which have gone on since the Cuban missile crisis, was last fall's U.S.-Soviet wheat deal. Under this agreement, the United States has sold the Soviet Union 1.7 million tons of badly needed wheat.

Authorities here also cite as an evidence of declining East-West tension the parallel actions taken last month by President Johnson and Premier Khrushchev in announcing a cutback in the production of nuclear explosives.

Most officials here think the trend toward improving relations has been both helped and hindered by the Soviet split with Red China and the resulting rivalry between Moscow and Peking for leadership of the Communist parties around the world.

Undoubtedly, the split has caused Khrushchev to reassess his relations with the West, in the light of the fact that the Soviet Union is caught up in a cold war on two fronts. It is assumed here that the long Soviet border with Red China is a source of constant concern to Moscow strategists.

At the same time, U.S. experts say, because of the competition for Communist leadership, Khrushchev must strike out against the United States and other Western powers on some issues since failure to do so would yield advantage to the Chinese.

CONVENTION HEADLINERS—Sen. Thruston B. Morton, of Kentucky, left, was appointed permanent chairman of the 1964 Republican national convention. Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, of Oregon, right, will be the temporary chairman and keynoter. The convention will be in San Francisco in July.

cil decided on "a course of action to be taken in this strike." He declined to elaborate, saying that for "good reasons" the council would delay its announcement until later in the day.

The violence-marked strike at Essex, a major industry in this city of 7,629, has been going on since Feb. 28. It became exactly three months old today.

The Hillsdale Local of the International Union of Electrical Workers pulled out its 180 plant workers in a dispute over terms of a first contract with the company.

A chief issue has been the Hillsdale local's demand for wage parity with the Indiana workers.

Essex has said that the average hourly wage at the Hillsdale plant, about $2.43, is from 40 to 60 cents below the average wages paid the employees in the Fort Wayne plant.

A plant guard was shot and wounded Tuesday night, another guard was clubbed with a baseball bat, and a union picket was slashed.

Trouble broke out Wednesday night when a carload of guards leaving the factory was intercepted. Rocks were thrown.

New York Yankees Take 6th Straight From Indians 7-2

Maris, Boyer Clout Homers

Tribe Starts Series With Senators Next

NEW YORK (AP)—The one comforting thought the Cleveland Indians can take with them as they depart Yankee Stadium is that they won't see the New Yorkers again for nearly seven weeks—not until July 13.

It may take them that long to recover from the humiliation of six straight losses to the American League champions.

The Yankees won 7-2 Wednesday, doing most of the damage against Jack Kralick. It was the first defeat for Kralick against four victories.

Roger Maris started it off with a booming inside-the-park home run in the second inning.

The ball went over Al Smith's head to deep center and rolled behind the three monuments the Yankees have erected there about 455 feet from home plate.

Maris scored standing up. A walk and a double by Elston Howard in the same inning gave the Yankees a two-run lead.

The Yankees added another run in the fourth and three more in the sixth before Kralick was replaced by Don McMahon. Capping that three-run rally was Clete Boyer's homer scoring two runs.

The Indians finally got on the scoreboard in the eighth with Larry Brown's homer into the left field stands. That gave Brown three hits for the day.

The second Tribe run came with two out in the ninth when Jerry Kindall, who had doubled, scored from third on a wild pitch.

The Indians are idle today and head for Washington, where they will open a four-game series Thursday night.

Nuxhall, Fischer Hurl 3rd Shutouts In NL Action; Bucs Handed 2-0 Loss

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
When Joe Nuxhall was throwing newspapers onto front porches, Hank Fischer was tossing toys out of his playpen.

Two decades later, Nuxhall and Fischer are throwing shutouts at National League opponents.

Each pitcher recorded his third shutout Wednesday night, high in the league this season. Cincinnati's Nuhall stopped the stumbling Los Angeles Dodgers.

Superior Wallpaper broke the tie in the Friday bracket and moved out in front by six points. The leaders have a total of 30 markers. Ruffer's Construction is second with 24.

Powder Puff, tied for first last week, slipped to sixth place as it was shut out.

Flying B fired 163 to take low gross team honors. The unit also had a 140 combination for low net for the Thursday section.

Jerry Shasteen led the division with individual low gross 38. Dutch Lindner came in with a 39. Don Rohrer carded low net 55-26-29.

Superior Wallpaper, Santini Builders and Corso's Wine Shop tied for team low gross with 1668. The Friday loop leader carded team low net 137.

Julius Smutko fired a 37 for medalist honors. Dick Boughton and Lloyd Lindquist chalked up 388. Ron Bruckner posted 46-18-28 for low net.

1-0 on six hits while Fischer hurled a four-hitter in Milwaukee's 2-0 victory over Houston.

The 24-year-old Fischer increased his record to 5-2 and lowered his earned-run average to 2.75. Nuhall, 35-year-old veteran, won his fourth game against three defeats and reduced his ERA to 3.30.

The Cincinnati southpaw went from delivering newspapers in Hamilton, Ohio, to pitching in the major leagues at the age of 11. That was in 1944 when Fischer was four years old.

When the Braves' right-hander entered organized baseball in 1959, Nuhall already had been playing for 15 years. In fact, four years before, Nuhall led the league in shutouts with five.

Fischer's victory Wednesday night overshadowed the two-hit performance of his opponent, Skinny Brown of Houston. In another NL shutout, Art Mahaffey threw a four-hitter as Philadelphia halted Pittsburgh's five-game winning streak 2-0. Juan Marichal limited St. Louis to seven hits in San Francisco's 2-1 triumph while Dick Ellsworth and Chicago stopped New York 7-1 on seven hits.

Nuxhall got the better of the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, who allowed the Reds just three hits but still dropped his fourth game in eight decisions. Nuxhall didn't walk a man and allowed only two Dodgers to reach second base.

The Reds scored in the first on a walk to Pete Rose, Tommy Harper's infield hit and a bloop single by Vada Pinson.

The Braves scored two runs for Fischer in the fourth. Ed Mathews singled and went to second when Ty Cline was hit by a pitch. Both advanced on a passed ball. An intentional walk with one out loaded the bases.

Two runs then scored as Rusty Staub bobbled a throw that would have completed an inning-ending double play.

Mahaffey completed his first game in eight starts, holding the Pirates to two doubles by Dick Schofield and singles by Donn Clendenon and Smokey Burgess.

Bob Friend lost his fourth game against four victories.

Doubles by Clay Dalrymple and Cookie Rojas and Richie Allen's single in the third gave the Phillies their runs.

Marichal brought his record to 7-1 as the Giants stayed close to the first-place Phillies. He got out of tight situations three different times. Chuck Hiller and Duke Snider opened the game with consecutive home runs off the Cardinals' Bob Gibson, who suffered his first defeat after four triumphs.

The Mets calmed down after their uncharacteristic outburst the day before when they scored 19 runs. They gave starter Al Jackson the usual support—no runs in the 51-3 innings he pitched. Jackson, now 3-6, has not had a run scored for him in 13 innings.

The Cubs put the game away in the first when Ron Santo tripled in one run and scored on Ernie Banks' single.

Drivers Get Final Chance To Tune Up Cars For 500 Today

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer
INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Drivers in Saturday's $500,000 Memorial Day auto race got their last chance today to check whether mechanics put everything back in the right place after post-qualification tear-downs.

The 33 glittering cars, stripped down to the bare frames in a scrutiny for damaged parts, were to be checked out in a final practice with full fuel loads from 2 to 4 p.m. EST.

It seemed unlikely that the highly specialized mechanics had misassembled the expensive machines—but it has happened. The late Jimmy Bryan, winner of the 500 in 1958, was left at the starting line the next year when he couldn't let out his clutch. Two bolts had been interchanged.

Today also was the last chance for world road racing champion Jimmy Clark to get in a little practice since winning the Grand Prix of the Netherlands last Sunday. He qualified his new Lotus-Ford hurriedly on the first day of the 500 time trials May 16—so hurriedly he set a 10-mile record of 158.828 m.p.h. for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway—then dashed off to Holland to practice on the North Sea dunes course.

The 500 Festival, an aspiring youngster which hopes to rival the Mardi Gras and the Tournament of Roses, will reach a colorful climax this evening in a parade featuring 33 elaborate floats—one for each starting car and scores of bands and marching units.

Times have changed in the decades since the drivers used to wheel into the Speedway on race-day morning in pickup trucks, with no preliminaries, and set about fueling up for the 500. Indianapolis has had four solid weeks of parties, and recognition affairs for past and present luminaries of the auto racing world.

The fantastic night - before brawl on 16th Street, main artery to the Speedway, is to be more subdued this Friday night—or so police hope.

By ALAN GILL

Diahann — I

On nice evenings, with the moon low and the bright domes of lower Manhattan shimmering in the river just outside, we laze back and listen to the beginning and end of the "No Strings" album. There is no sweeter sound in all the world than Diahann Carroll singing to Richard Kiley "The Sweetest Sounds" and then, on the last two bands of side two, the title song and a reprise of "Sweetest Sounds."

Alan Gill

Finally, if the moon is still right, we turn back to hear a counterpoint thing called "Mame."

Are people everywhere doing this on nice evenings — melting happily in the warm, clear radiance of that voice?

The living, breathing (as compared with the electronically recorded) Diahann Carroll is more radiant yet, from the pearl-like glimmer of make-up in the outer corners of her goddess's eyes to a smile that flickers on like neon. Miss Carroll is not only our sweetest singer of ballads but our most beautiful.

THERE. That said, let us now proceed to the translation of notes taken over a lunch with the lady one day recently. She had just completed her few guest appearances on "The Dancy Kaye Show," with a stop-over at "The Telephone Hour," and was preparing to invade London with two TV specials via the BBC. (The British, you see, send us a bag of mixed nuts called The Beatles and we retaliate by sending them an orchid.)

Preparing for a TV appearance, she said, requires a great amount of work. "For something like Bell Telephone, there is a fairly rigid format. You meet, decide on a song or group of songs —"

Like "Lover, Come Back to Me?"

THE NEON SMILE sparked across her nice mug. "No, like 'Someone to Watch Over Me.' Things like that, as long as they don't have the word 'kiss' in them. The problem is to make a song people have heard 8,000 times come alive — and not only for the audience but for poor me."

Yet after three years, Miss Carroll is far from tired of singing Richard Rodgers' "The Sweetest Sounds." "It used to be bump — bump — bump — bump, one-two-three-four," she said, "but I sing it differently now. I sang it not long ago with piano accompaniment on the Johnny Carson show and loved it that way, kind of ripped apart a little bit. Free verse."

"Mr. Rodgers doesn't seem to mind. I do have a tendency to lie behind the beat and he used to talk to me about that, but he was very patient."

DAIHANN CARROLL is much on the move these days. "I am in the midst of what is known as touring, which is interesting, stimulating and very depressing," she said. "You're home such a short time and then you're off again to Framingham, Mass., or Las Vegas, before you've caught your breath."

"It's hard to know in a club just what will go over, just what is too sophisticated and what isn't, until you get there. This is New York, so quick and metropolitan, and everything from every corner of the world stops here — a fantastic place. Here, our everyday expressions and points of view aren't those necessarily shared by someone further south or west. And you don't find that out until something you've said has been greeted with a bit of silence."

SINCE THE LADY HAS one of the finest wardrobes in show business, her club appearances are a couturier's delight. (A companion at lunch gestured toward the large puff of hat she was wearing and said, "That's a hat, all right," to which she replied, "That's precisely what it is: SOME HAT.")

"I design my own clothes," she went on. "On the night club floor, I wear what you might call bell-bottom trousers, only they're terribly girlish looking trousers, and in fact you can't even tell they're trousers at all. They're in every kind of fabric — white silk chiffon or white lace or whatever."

Shucks, they could be overalls and the lady would still be a dream.

With Rod And Reel

By TOM JAGER

In Columbiana County, night crawlers and minnows reign tops as fish getters. Artificial plugs and lure have netted their owners fish, but according to reports in this column, many more and bigger fish are caught by using live bait.

Of the artificial baits, the most popular, the black or red rubber worms seem to be doing quite well. Reports from Westville Lakes indicate that bass have been biting real good on these worms.

According to the Ohio Division of Wildlife, the state's streams and lakes are in good condition for fishing. If you plan to do some fishing, now seems to be the time.

BERLIN RESERVOIR fishing seems to be quite good. Wall-eyed pike have been caught with good success. Crawlers and large minnows seem to be what the big fish want.

Salem City Reservoir fishermen have been catching bass and trout over the weekend. Again, live bait seems to be the thing with the fish there.

The last of the county fish and game hearings have been scheduled. Attention is now turning to various district hearings after which the hunting and trapping seasons will be scheduled.

Each district will select a farmer and sportsman representative who will attend the state hearing at 9 a.m. June 25 in the Ohio Department Building in Columbus before the Wildlife council.

Because any new regulations for the fishing season would not be effective until March 1, 1965, no decision will be made until a later date, Dale E. Whitesell, chief, Division of Wildlife, says.

OVER A THREE-DAY period at Westville Lakes, Bob Dundon of Westville netted 60 blue gill, 2 bass from 17-20 inches on surface plugs and flies tipped with maggots.

Joe Snyder of Sebring caught four nice bass, plus perch and crappies on a Rapale lure. The lure used is a Finnish product. Crappies are doing real well at Guilford Lake. Although they bite better on minnows, worms, crawlers and flies will bring them in. Most of the crappies brought in are of medium size.

A DISAPPOINTING SIGHT along Guilford Lake is the number of dead fish along the shore. Some of these are of nice size and would make any fisherman's day complete. Although some have been killed by motors, most of the ones seen by this columnist have been hooked, taken out of the water, left to die and then tossed back in. This column would like to hear from you fishermen out there. If you have had a big one but it got away, well, all I can say is "Welcome to the Club."

Reformed Belinsky Gives Strong Performance In Angels 4-1 Win

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"Good shows, fine food, beautiful dames? I just don't dig that stuff any more."

—Bo Belinsky, 1964.

It's strictly a soda pop and early-to-bed world now for Bo, who Wednesday night took a shower after a game for the first time this season.

The reformed Angel — "I'm behaving like a ball player" — pitched his first complete game and equaled his entire 1963 victory total by posting victory No. 2 as Los Angeles defeated Minnesota 4-1 in the opener of a two-nighter.

It's been two years and 22 days since Belinsky, a veteran pool shark and rookie pitcher, announced his arrival on the major league scene by hurling a no-hitter. Last year, he made his first exit, shipped to the minors with a 2-9 record.

This time, he says, things are going to be different.

"I'm giving it my best shot," he said. "I've pitched some good games and didn't win. But as long as I know I'm pitching well, I won't get discouraged. The breaks are bound to fall my way sooner or later."

They did against the Twins. Belinsky allowed Minnesota's only run on Harmon Killebrew's 13th homer but scattered seven hits, struck out eight and did not walk a man in a strong performance. Still, he needed some brilliant fielding support — and got it.

With the Angels leading 2-1 and two men on in the seventh, Bobby Knoop made an over-the-shoulder catch of Earl Battey's shallow fly to right. Then, in the eighth, with the tying run on base, Albie Pearson made a running, one-handed catch of Zoilo Versalles' line drive to deep center.

The Twins, however, came back to take the nightcap, winning 4-3 on Don Mincher's homer in the 13th inning.

Elsewhere in the American League, Ed Rakow stopped Baltimore for the second time in three games and preserved a 6-3 Detroit victory, the New York Yankees whipped Cleveland 7-2 and Washington edged Boston 9-8 in 11 innings. The Chicago White Sox were rained out at Kansas City.

Pearson, besides saving Belinsky, scored the tie-breaking run for the Angels in the third inning of the opener when he singled, stole second and scampered home on a single by Lee Thomas. In the nightcap, Bob Allison's 11th homer produced an early Minnesota lead but the Angels scored twice in the eighth to tie the score. Mincher's seventh homer decided it.

Rakow, who pitched two-hit relief for 51-3 innings against the Orioles Monday, stopped Baltimore on two hits over the final 41-3 this time. The Tigers broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth with a three-run rally, Don Demeter starting things with a triple and scoring the lead run on a wild pitch by Dave McNally. Al Kaline later homered for Detroit.

Bill Skowron and Chuck Hinton homered for the Senators as they built a 7-2 lead, but Dick Stuart's second homer of the game eventually tied the score in the seventh. Each team scored in the eighth before Washington pulled it out in the 11th against Dick Radatz on a walk to Jim King, a sacrifice, Mike Brumley's infield hit and Dick Phillips' single.

Al Downing scattered seven hits and chipped in with a triple and single for the Yankees. Downing had the Indians shut out until Larry Brown homered in the eighth for his third hit. Roger Maris hit an inside-the-park homer and Clete Boyer hit a two-run homer as the Yankees handed Jack Kralick his first defeat after four victories.

Archer's 64 Leads Speedway Open

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Par may have been a paper tiger for the 55 pros who whipped it in the first round of the $70,000 Indianapolis Speedway Open golf tournament, but the roar came today to shatter the coveted silence they demand.

Thirty-three of the fastest — and possibly loudest — cars in 500-mile-race history had two hours of carburetor tests this afternoon around the 2½-mile oval which cuts the golf course in half. They'll sound off in preparation for the 48th race Saturday.

Lean and lanky Californian George Archer set the pace Wednesday, racing around the 6,467-yard spread with a seven-under-par 64 that included a record 29 on the incoming nine. The rookie pro had dropped out of last weekend's Memphis Open with a sore hand, and his best finish to date was fourth in the San Diego Open.

Archer led the host of assaults on the 35-36-71 par. Joe Campbell, former golf and basketball star at Purdue, and Harold (Catfish) Kneec, Aiken, S.C., knotted in second with 65s. Doug Sanders, George Bayer and Kel Nagle held down third with 66s.

Archer's seven birdies on the back nine produced the second-best nine-hole score of the season — topped only by Bob Charles' 28 last week at Memphis. Six players owned the previous Speedway back nine standard of 30.

Stacy Enters New Car Race At Canfield

The fabulous Nelson Stacy of Daytona Beach will rate as the favorite when the ARCA new cars meet in their grueling 100-lap race at Canfield Speedway Friday night.

There will be five big events, capped by the 100 lapper over the quarter-mile oval. Race time is 8 p.m. with time trials getting under way at 6:30 p.m.

Stacy has shifted from NASCAR to ARCA this year and has chalked up three victories in his 1964 Ford. His most outstanding triumph came at Daytona Beach in February. Stacy has his own plane and will fly his Cessna into Canfield on Thursday. With NASCAR two years ago, Stacy won more than $73,000.

Stacy will be appearing at Canfield for the first time since 1960. He won the MARC national titles in 1953, 1959 and 1960.

Another prominent ARCA star entered, also in a 1964 Ford, is Iggy Katona of Willis, Mich. The veteran Katona is in his 17th year of racing and he won the MARC national titles in 1955, 1956, 1957 and 1962.

President Johnny Marcum announced that some 25 new cars would be on hand and the fastest 20 qualifiers will get the starters flag in the 100-lap duel.

Two other top stars driving 1964 Plymouths are Jim Cushman of Columbus and Earl Balmer of Floyd Knobs, Ind. Cushman is the present point leader in ARCA while Balmer has chalked up three feature victories this year.

Defending ARCA champ Jack Bowsher will be trying to make a bid for the 1964 title in his 1964 Ford. Bowsher is always ready to race and to make sure he always brings in two cars.

Putting the local touch to the big night of racing will be Don Sawyer of Girard in a 1963 Ford and Wimpy May of Auburn Corners in a 1963 Plymouth.

Saturday night the late models and amateurs will compete in eight events, topped by four feature events.

Hanoverton

By MRS. WAYNE ROACH

Approximately 125 people attended the Mother and Daughter banquet at the Presbyterian Church. A program, "The Master's Garden," followed the dinner. Mrs. Howard Blanchard led table prayers.

A toast to mothers was given by Kathy Bowman and the response was given by Mrs. Lee Bowman. Jayne Oyer gave a reading, the junior choir sang several selections and a skit was given by the tiny tots group. Patty and Debbie Lindsmith gave recitations and sang a vocal duet.

Barry, Rocky Step Up California Pace

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, bolstered by neutrality pledges from Richard M. Nixon and Gov. William W. Scranton, wades deeper into the presidential primary battle today as Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, fortified with support from Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's son, steps up the pace. Rockefeller planned today to visit Monterey—where Goldwater had been Tuesday—for a round of appearances before continuing north to Santa Cruz, Santa Clara and San Francisco. Goldwater also planned to move northward, visiting Santa Barbara—where Rockefeller had been Tuesday—to mend any political fences the New Yorker may have toppled. Goldwater revealed the neutrality statements he'd received from the former vice president and the Pennsylvania governor

Wednesday. An aide said the Arizona senator had wired the undeclared Republican contenders earlier in the week, saying they had been represented her as aligned with his opponents. Both Nixon and Scranton replied they are not out to stop either Rockefeller or Goldwater in the primary election next Tuesday.

There was, conversely, no such statement from Lodge. His son, George, appeared at a news conference early Wednesday to urge Lodge supporters to vote for Rockefeller, saying it was "the surest way to endorse Lodge in California." Young Lodge said nomination of Goldwater by the GOP "would most likely set the party in decline from which it would atrophy." The son of the ambassador to South Viet Nam said he believes Rockefeller, more closely than Goldwater, represents the views of "forward-looking" Republicanism enunciated Monday by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Earlier, Goldwater had declared that he is "the only serious candidate" in the California presidential primary and that he hates to think of what would happen to the dollar if Rockefeller became president.

Goldwater also said he'd have sent the U.S. Marines to turn on the water for Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba when the Castro regime shut it off. "Had I been the commanding officer of the base, I probably would have taken that action. I believe in protecting the American people first, and then worry about what happens afterward," he said.

DIES IN PLANE CRASH

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A jet pilot was killed Wednesday when his test plane crashed in a hay field in Fairfield County. The pilot was M. D. (Don) Humphreys, 36, of Gahanna, a Columbus suburb. He was an employee of North American Aviation, Inc. His power-needle-nose Vigilante crashed on a farm just east of Millersport.

MIDDLEPORT, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old Gallia County boy, Eddie Ward of nearby Cheshire, drowned Wednesday when he fell from a log on the bank and disappeared in the Ohio River. His body was recovered by the Pomeroy Emergency squad an hour later but attempts to revive him failed. Eddie was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orron Ward.
